

Nataliia Stukalo is the Vice-Head of the National Agency for Higher Education Quality Assurance (NAQA/Ukraine) and MBA and Finance Programme Leader at London School of Business and Finance Online. She is Doctor of Sciences in International Economics and Full Professor in International Finance and she has taken internships and trainings at Harvard University, University of Amsterdam, Catholic University of Leuven, Bologna University, University of Liverpool, University of Roehampton (London) Online and the others. She is international QA expert and well-known Ukrainian educator, scientist. Nataliia has 10-years experience in online education working at Laureate Online Education UK-based Universities and at Global University System InteractivePro. Before being elected as a member of NAQA, she spent 20 years teaching and managing at Ukrainian, British and German Universities. Professor Stukalo is the author of more than 150 academic papers on International Economics, Global Finance, Sustainable Development, and Higher Education QA issues. In addition to her professional activities in higher education QA and online learning, she enjoys discovering new places and getting to know people from different cultural backgrounds. She currently resides in Kyiv (Ukraine) and identifies her personal mission as serving as an academic leader by promoting culture of quality, high standards, forward-thinking so that the students get relevant competencies to be successful in the changing globalized world, the colleagues share research and teaching excellence values, and the equally high level of education quality is ensured in Ukraine and all over the world. You can reach her at nstukalo@ukr.net.